

ADAPTIVE THERAPY FOR DISORDERED BREATHING

5

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

10 An approach to providing disordered breathing therapy includes detecting disordered breathing and adapting a therapy to mitigate the disordered breathing.
The therapy may be adapted to enhance therapy effectiveness, to provide therapy that reduces an impact of the therapy on the patient, or to achieve other therapeutic goals. Cardiac electrical therapy to mitigate the disordered breathing may include various cardiac pacing regimens and/or delivery of non-excitatory electrical 15 stimulation to the heart.